A Mutiny Quelled by an Elephant. Recently a fine specimen of the Asiatic elephant was landed at Southampton, Eng., and was purchased by Mr. A. Fairgrieve, the acting proprietor of the Queen's Menagerie. It was miliarly known on board by the term of "Ramy"), to whom the elephant was particularly attached, and who had brought the huge brute under perfect subjection. During the first tow days after the ship had cleared the land everything went on perfectly satisfactorily, but, untogether one evening, near the wheel-house on has no equal. the main-deck close to where the elephant was chained, and held council as to their future proceedings. The keeper, Ramy, lying at the side of the animal, feigned sleep, although he paid attention to what the disaffected spirits were saying. He heard the whole details of a most diabolical plot to murder the captain, and a greater portion of the crew and passengers, and he ascertained that he (Ramy) was one of the selected ones who were thus appointed to be ruthlessly massacred. The onslaught was to be made when the watch was changed that night. No time was to be lost in warning the SCHOOL and CHURCH the selected ones who were thus appointed to night. No time was to be lost in warning the captain of the danger, but it was utterly impossible for Ramy to proceed to the state cabin without incurring the greatest risk, inasmuch as he would have been compelled to pass through the midst of the plotting rascals, and they would certainly not have scrupled in effectually silencing on the spot one whom they had themselves selected for slaughter. The wily keeper, however, took a wiser course, and as it turned out, a very serviceable one. Noiselessly unfastening the chain which bound the elephant's fore-legs, Ramy set the animal at liberty, and springing to his feet in an inneers, followed by the elephant. Giving a signal to the intelligent brute, it laid about it right and left with its trunk, and the astonished sailors were quickly prostrated on the deck, wounded and bleeding, and shouting loudly for mercy. The captain hearing the disturbance, was soon on the spot, and, having been made acquainted with the facts of the case, caused the mutineers to be placed in irons, to be dealt

A New York correspondent of the Providence Press writes:

"The Metropolitan Hotel is a favorite resort, and after rehearsal is over, groups of dramatic celebrities will be congregated there. There are several club-houses also in the city, devoted more or less to actors and theatrical workers. Actors generally are very social, and like the good things of life. They spend freely, and, with exceptions, are constitutionally "hard up." Salaries in most cases are ample. Leading stock actors average a hundred dollars a week, and find their wardrobe. The pay of others varies from twenty-five to seventy-five dollars. Some leading "stars," who hail from New York, make large amounts. Maggie Mitchell, the petite, the charming, clears about eleven hundred dollars weekly through the season. The sprightly Lotta a trifle more. Barney Williams and wife make a cool thousand a week. The Florences average seven hundred. Edwin Forrest get five hundred dollars a night, glass. Call and see, at 65, King st. and furnishes Miss Lillie and Barton Hill as jy 7-eo3m support. John Broughan is good for an average of eight hundred a week, but does not work as steadily as others. He had also a nice income from his plays Edwin Booth has made two thousand dollars weekly this season. His offers for sale Lamps in great variety, from the popularity is very great in the West. Mrs. Bowers netted seven thousand dollars from her frau has played to capital business this summer. He took four thousand dollars from this city recently. It is well known to professionals that good, lively, dashing sensations pay now, if enacted with any degree of excellence, and "stars" who have made two or three marked peculiar characters all their own, and perform them with spirit, gather in a harvest of green-

OYSTERS SUN-DRIED.-We have several times mentioned the oysters of West Mexico, on the Eastern Gulf coasts, as being much used round Guaymas, and other Sonora towns, in a dried state-i. c., desicated in the sun like Calitornia charqui or hung beef. From our shipping reports it appears the Mexican steamers, during the past twelve months, have brought up to San Francisco one or two hundred bales of this article, and we suppose the trade must be now well inaugurated, as the arhe is prepared to contract for building, or to do were not catable and in demand; and it is well known they are in common use in the large towns of Sonara, Durango, and Jalisco, every year during the season of Lent, and from ancient times in those countries. The oysters from the Bay of Fonseca, are also dried in this way, and form a regular article of trade to the upland towns of Central America. There are also stated to be good oysters in abundance in some of the small coves of the bay of Panama. Smoke-dried oysters are a common article of trade in China, and found in every grocer's shop in that country. - San Francisco Bul-

SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.

The value of this GUANO is now so wellknown and appreciated, that it does not require further commendation from us. The Company owns the Guano Islands, and other sources of supply from which its raw material is drawn. Hence, this Guano, possessing such high excellence, can be brought into market at a price not exceeding that of the ordinary Super-Phosphates of Lime.

The large capital invested by this Company affords the surest guarantee of the continued excellence of their fertilizer, as the safety of their capital depends upon continued and permanent business. Experience has shown that this Guano ripens the Wheat crop from five to six days earlier than the Super-Phosphates. It is the policy and purpose of the Company to furnish the best fertilizer that enterprise and capital, aided by the best scientific ability, can bring into market, at the lowest possible

ORGANIC WEAKNESS Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This distressing affection, which renders life miscrable and marriage impossible, is the penalty paid by the victims of impropriety .-Young persons are too apt to commit excesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleas ure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The System becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indi-
